

CUSP Resolution 2002-03B
Resolution to Establish a
Temporary Freeze on Course Proposals to
The University Core Curriculum Committee

Approved by Commission on Undergraduate Studies and Policies:	January 27, 2003
First Reading at University Council:	March 17, 2003
Approved by University Council:
Approved by the President:
Effective:	Immediately

Whereas, the University Core Curriculum Committee is undergoing reassessment of the structure of the core; and,

Whereas, a realignment of Colleges and Departments is scheduled to take place July 1, 2003, and it is anticipated that all College Curriculum Committees will be reconstituted as of that date and may need time to realign their course proposal processes; and,

Whereas, the realignment of Colleges and Departments may necessitate a realignment of courses and course offerings,

Therefore, the University Core Curriculum Committee proposes the following:

Effective November 1, 2002 no new courses will be added to the Virginia Tech University Core Curriculum, nor will courses be considered for removal from the Core Curriculum except as described below. This will remain in place while review of the University Core Curriculum takes place through July 1, 2004.

Exceptions to this freeze will be:

- Courses submitted for writing intensive designation;
- Courses submitted in support of Critical Issues in a Global Context (Area 7);
- Courses submitted as part of a package that realigns a departmental or program curriculum; or
- Other selected courses as justified by a college curriculum committee.
